MUFG Hires Veteran Operations Executive Christy Orazi as Chief Procurement Officer

NEW YORK – Mitsubishi UFJ Financial Group (MUFG), Inc., one of the world's leading financial institutions, today announced it has hired Christy Orazi as Managing Director and Chief Procurement Officer. Based in Phoenix, Arizona, Orazi will report to Johannes “Johs” Worsoe, Chief Financial Officer for the Americas.

Orazi is an entrepreneurial operations executive with experience in strategic sourcing and organizational development specializing in leading enterprise level change. She has a proven ability to motivate and mobilize large teams around a common purpose utilizing technology to enable business models that drive client success. In her role, Orazi is responsible for overseeing the firm's procurement strategy for the U.S.

“Christy is a seasoned business executive with substantial experience in strategic sourcing and leading change, both vital skills as we continue to grow MUFG,” said Worsoe.”

Prior to joining MUFG, Orazi has held various senior leadership and transformation roles at BB&T since joining the company in 2008. Most recently, she was the Senior Vice President and Head of Sourcing and Procurement leading strategy and operations for enterprise third party spend management. She successfully led bank third party spend efforts to efficiently enable the firm to maximize value while minimizing risk. Prior to joining BB&T, she spent 12 years at IBM Corporation in various supply chain, engineering and procurement leadership roles.

She holds a Master of Business Administration degree in General Management from Duke University's Fuqua School of Business, and a Bachelor of Science degree in Engineering (Industrial Engineering) from North Carolina State University.
